Birthday Celebrations in Different Countries

INDIA

In India, the birthday celebrant gets to wear new clothes. He starts the day by touching the feet of his parents to show respect. Next, the family visit a shrine to pray for the blessing for the celebration.

CHINA

Chinese birthdays must be celebrated before or on the actual birth date. If a birthday is celebrated after the date it is considered taboo. Certain birthdays are not celebrated, like a 30th or 40th birthday, the person remains 29 or 39 for another year.

AFRICA

African people celebrate birthdays by having a highly decorated cake covered with lit candles. The number of candles signifies the age. The person blows out the candles and makes a wish.

BRAZIL

In Brazil the children eat candies shaped like fruit and vegetables. The candies are so beautiful that the children leave them for a while before they eat them. The houses are decorated for the occasion with festive banners and brightly coloured paper flowers.

Wrestlemania Party

I would like a Wrestling party with an actual wrestling ring for all my friends to have play fights but wearing sumo suits so nobody gets hurt.

The venue would be decorated with black and gold balloons and wrestling belts hanging from the ceiling.

We would have burgers, hot dogs, chicken dippers and chips for food with ice cream for pudding and a candy shop.

The music playing would be wrestling theme tunes and we would play party games like pass the WWE parcel, WWE pose musical status.

I would love WWE and Football related presents.
