

MY ROBOT

I woke up, to find a bright light shining in my face! It was my Robot "ASX". ASX is a housecleaning Robot, I was going to build him as an army robot, but my mum said it would be too dangerous I never listen to her though. However, little does she know, I have secretly put homing missiles in him(She will never know) I'm never going to tell her its only my secret, I think it could come in handy some time, for example; if robber came in the house.

Anyway, as I was saying I woke up ASX was shining a bright green light in my face, I told him to stop and he went Roger Roger! Like out of Star Wars! Whilst eating my breakfast ASX picked up the table. I shouted "ASX, you're not performing correct, there's something wrong with you"? Again, he replied Roger Roger!

How weird is that, he used to speak human not droid! I ran to my mum yelling "Mum there's something wrong with ASX!" Her reply was just as simple as, "Don't worry George he's only a robot."

I was a bit worried and very confused, I wanted to tell her that I put missiles on him but was worried with her response. I finally plucked up the courage and told her what I had done, and she went berserk! I did try to explain it would come in handy, but she did not listen one bit. She stood there in silence staring at ASX.

She walked off in silence, I was so worried that she would send him away, but she came back from the garage with some tools, she switched him off and got out a screwdriver to him! I was crying as I thought she was going to destroy my friend, but she was not she took out the missiles and fixed his voice box. I asked her if she could help me make him travel back in time and she did! It was a miracle. ASX was turned back on, we adjusted the mode and created a travel mode, this enabled us to go back in time. It was amazing, we were able to see loved ones again and my grandad. ASX was my best friend and always stayed by my side! He could also freeze time and go into the future! We saw cars that fly, they were all electric, so saving the ozone layer! Things ahead were looking great for the future!
